COMPANY OVERVIEW

HAT creates human-centered products that enable seamless interactions between people and technology. Our thoughtfully designed solutions adapt to the individual and provide healthier, more productive experiences.

In 1986, Innovative Office Products was launched as a provider of ergonomic, space-saving solutions to promote a healthy working lifestyle. This family-owned operation grew into a global company, creating design innovations for monitor arms, tablet mounts, POS systems, and sit-stand desks. Innovative Office Products acquired HAT Contract and Sis Ergo and became Human Active Technology.

HAT has built a trusted relationship with clients in the government sector, including the United States Navy, US Army, and the Food and Drug Administration. Our product solutions work across a range of functions and areas. Government applications are multifaceted and have a broad range of installation requirements; clients from federal, state, and county government offices value the easy ordering process and access to experienced sales, engineering, and customer service teams to ensure they are getting the right product for their particular application.
